PERSONALLY SPEAKING

what's new with Bioheat® fuel?

Dear Friends,

We're committed to doing our part to help combat the harmful effects of climate change.

One of the most important things we do is deliver Bioheat® fuel to our customers. Bioheat fuel is an eco-friendly blend of ultra-low-sulfur heating oil and organic biodiesel. This product reduces carbon emissions compared to petroleum. It also lowers sulfur oxide, particulate matter and mercury emissions.

Bioheat fuel is a significant advance in immediately reducing our country's greenhouse gas emissions. You can use it without modification to your oil-fired heating equipment. Heating systems burn fuel more efficiently with our Bioheat fuel. They also last longer and require fewer repairs. No system modifications are necessary.

Important carbon reduction advances come from the heating oil industry, including here in Suffolk County. The National Oilheat Research Alliance (NORA) has fitted a house in Port Jefferson to heat entirely with biodiesel and generate electricity with solar panels. This house reached net-zero carbon emissions quickly—and at an economically viable cost.

This is exciting news for everyone who appreciates the benefits of using heating oil to stay safe and warm but wants to do their part to preserve our precious environment. We're proud to be a part of the solution in combatting climate change and keeping you comfortable throughout the year.

Warmly,

Employee Snapshot

Shanan Lacey joined Swezey's equipment team last year, bringing a wealth of experience in keeping Long Island families comfortable.

Shanan grew up on Long Island and got his start in the HVAC industry in 2000, when he took a job at his friend's father's air conditioning company. The owner was also a teacher at Western Suffolk BOCES, and Shanan got a fantastic education in the field.

A couple of years ago, he connected with Swezey Fuel about joining our HVAC team.

"Swezey has a great reputation," Shanan recalled, "and I had worked with them on a project when I was with another employer."

He came on board as part of our installation team and then transitioned to overseeing our HVAC equipment sales. These days, he's working nonstop, visiting homes and helping customers find the right systems for their homes.

"I like selling people the product they really need, not just making a big sale," Shanan says. "I'm happy if the customer is happy!"

In his spare time, Shanan enjoys hiking, swimming and fossil-hunting with his family.
